CHAPTER III

Approval of models

36. (1) Save as otherwise provided in this section, this Chapter shall not apply to—

(a) any weight or measure which, being subject to verification and stamping under the State law as in force immediately before the commencement of this Act, is in use at such commencement;

(b) any cast iron, brass, bullion, or carat weight or any beam-scale, except those specified by rules made in this behalf;

(c) length measures (not being measuring tapes) ordinarily used in retail trade for measuring textiles or timber;

(d) capacity measures, not exceeding twenty litres in capacity, which are ordinarily used in retail trade for measuring kerosene, milk or potable liquors;

(e) any weighing or measuring instrument or device which is made or manufactured exclusively for domestic use:

Provided that such instrument or device is not intended for use of any member of the medical profession for use in the course of such profession.

(2) Where any officer of the Central or State Government charged with the duty of implementing the law relating to weights and measures has any reason to believe that the model of any weight or measure referred to in sub-section (1) requires a test by the prescribed authority, he may acquire one such weight or measure from the market and forward it to the prescribed authority for test, the fees for which shall be payable by the Government employing the officer by whom such weight or measure has been forwarded for test.

(3) Every person shall, before making or manufacturing any weight or measure to which this Part applies, submit for approval of the prescribed authority, such number of models, drawings and other information relating to such weight or measure as may be prescribed:

Provided that in relation to any weight or measure, to which this Part applies, which has already been made or manufactured, or which is in the process of being made or manufactured, at the commencement of this Part, models of such weight or measure shall be submitted to the prescribed authority from out of the weights or measures which have already been, or which are in the process of being, made or manufactured:

Provided further that in the case of a weight or measure the model whereof cannot be submitted, whether by reason of its nature or otherwise, it shall be sufficient if the drawings and other prescribed information about the weight or measure is submitted to the prescribed authority and thereupon that authority shall test the models of such weight or measure at the place where it is made or manufactured or at such other place as may be specified by the Director:

Provided also that the prescribed authority may, if it is satisfied that the model of any weight or measure which has been approved in a country outside India conforms to the standards established by or under this Act, approve such model without any test or after such test as it may deem fit.

(4) The prescribed authority shall levy and collect such fees for the testing of any model, submitted under this section for approval, as may be prescribed.

(5) The prescribed authority shall test the models submitted to it with a view to—

(a) ascertaining whether such models conform to the standards established by or under this Act;

(b) finding out the ability of such models to maintain accuracy over periods of sustained use; and

(c) determining the performance of such models under such varied conditions as may be prescribed.

(6) The prescribed authority shall submit to the Central Government a detailed report on the performance of the model submitted to it together with its recommendations with regard to the desirability or otherwise of issuing a certificate of approval in respect of that model.

(7) The Central Government may, if it is satisfied after considering the report submitted to it by the prescribed authority that the aforesaid model is in conformity with the provisions of this Act or any rule made thereunder and is likely to maintain accuracy over periods of sustained use and to render accurate service under varied conditions, issue a certificate of approval in respect of that model.

(8) Every certificate of approval of a model shall be published in the Official Gazette and shall also be published in such other manner as the Central Government may think fit.

(9) The Central Government may, if it is satisfied that the product made or manufactured in accordance with the model which was approved by it has failed to render the expected performance or to conform to the standards established by or under this Act, revoke the certificate of approval issued by it under sub-section (7):

Provided that no such revocation shall be made except after giving the manufacturer of such weight or measure a reasonable opportunity of being heard:

Provided further that where the Central Government is satisfied that as a result of the alteration made by the manufacturer in the model of the weight or measure, such model has become fit for approval, it may vacate the order of revocation of the certificate of approval issued by it.

(10) If for any reason any material of the approved model of a weight or measure to which this Part applies becomes non-available in India, the manufacturer may continue the manufacture of such weight or measure with such substitute materials as may be, in his opinion, most suitable for the manufacture of such weight or measure but where the manufacturer does so, he shall send such substitute materials to the prescribed authority for test.

(11) If the prescribed authority is of opinion that the substitute material referred to in sub-section (10) is not suitable and that there is available in India any other material which is more suitable, that authority shall intimate its findings to the Central Government and also to the manufacturer, and thereupon the manufacturer shall not manufacture the weight or measure with any material other than the material recommended by the prescribed authority, until the material which was originally approved by the prescribed authority becomes available in India:

Provided that where, in the opinion of the prescribed authority, the substitute material referred to in sub-section (10) is not suitable and no other suitable material is also available in India, the approval in relation to the model shall stand suspended until a suitable material becomes available in India.

(12) Where the model of any weight or measure to which this Part applies has been approved, the models of different denominations of such weight or measure shall not require any approval if such denominations are manufactured in accordance with the same principles according to which, and the same materials with which, the approved model has been manufactured.

37. (1) Before issuing a licence to make or manufacture any weight or measure to which this Part applies, the State Government shall satisfy itself that a certificate of approval of the model of such weight or measure has been granted by the Central Government under section 36.

(2) Where any certificate of approval of any model has been revoked by the Central Government, the licence issued by the State Government for the making or manufacturing of any weight or measure in accordance with such model shall stand suspended:

Provided that such suspension shall stand vacated if such model is subsequently approved by the Central Government.

38. Every weight or measure to which this Part applies and for which a model has been approved shall bear thereon, in such manner as may be prescribed, the number of the approved model and the number of the certificate by or under which such model was approved:

Provided that where the Central Government is of opinion that inclusion of any such particulars on any weight or measure is not possible by reason of its size or nature, that Government may exempt the inclusion of such particulars on such weight or measure.

(4) The statement on a package or label as to the net weight, measure or number of the contents thereof shall not include any expression which tends to qualify such weight, measure or number:

Provided that the Central Government may, by rules, specify the commodities, the weight or measure of which is likely to increase or decrease beyond the prescribed tolerance limits by reason of climatic variations; and it shall be lawful for the manufacturer or packer of the commodity so specified to qualify the statement as to the net content of such commodity by the use of the words “when packed”.

Explanation.—The words “when packed” shall not be used in any case except a case to which the proviso to sub-section (4) applies.

Weight or measure to contain number of the approved model, etc.

Quantities and origin of commodities in packaged form to be declared.

(5) Where the Central Government has reason to believe that there is undue proliferation of weight, measure or number in which any commodity is, or reasonably comparable commodities are, being packed for sale, distribution or delivery and such undue proliferation impairs in the opinion of that Government, the reasonable ability of the consumer to make a comparative assessment of the prices after considering the net quantity or number of such commodity, that Government may direct the manufacturers and also the packers or distributors to sell, distribute or deliver such commodity in such standard quantities or number as may be prescribed.

(6) Whenever the retail price of a commodity in packaged form to which this Chapter applies is stated in any advertisement, there shall be included in the advertisement, a conspicuous declaration as to the net quantity or number of the commodity contained in the package and retail unit sale price thereof.

(7) No person shall sell, distribute or deliver for sale a package containing a commodity which is filled less than the prescribed capacity of such package except where it is proved by such person that the package was so filled with a view to—

- (a) giving protection to the contents of such package, or
- (b) meeting the requirements of machines used for enclosing the contents of such package.

(8) The Central Government may, by rules, specify such reasonable variations in the net contents of the commodity in a package as may be caused by the method of packing or the ordinary exposure which may be undergone by such commodity after it has been introduced in trade or commerce.

STATEMENT OF OBJECTS AND REASONS

In India, uniform standards of weights and measures, based on the metric system, were established, for the first time, by the Standards of Weights and Measures Act, 1956. The standards established by the 1956-Act were, however, based on the international system of units, as recognised by the General Conference of Weights and Measures (CGPM) and the International Organization of Legal Metrology (OIML). Subsequent to the enactment of the said Act, CGPM revised the standards of weights and measures with a view to providing a coherent scheme for measurements having regard to the rapid advances made in the fields of science and technology, and evolved a practical system of units of weights and measures, suitable for adoption for all the signatories to the Metre Convention. This practical system of weights and measures was given the name "Le Systeme International d'Unites" (with its international abbreviation "SI"). The SI includes seven base units, two supplementary units, about fifty derived units and a few special units. The SI is not a new system; it emanates from the six primary units which were established by the 1956-Act, and also includes derived units which are required in the specialised fields of nuclear science, space technology, aeronautics, electronics, communication and for the manufacture of high-precision instruments and equipments required in the country and for export. To sustain and assist scientific and technological research in the country, more accurate standards of weights and measures, as in the SI, have to be adopted for the measurement of space and time, temperature and heat, magnetic quantities, X-ray dosages, nuclear radiation, etc. The Indian Science Academy and other scientific and technical organizations, as well as the technical departments of the Government, have urged the formal adoption of SI and other units to facilitate their working.

2. The OIML, which is responsible for the preparation of international laws on weights and measures, called "Legal Metrology", has recognised all the SI units for legal purposes and has prepared the draft of a legislation for enactment by member-countries.

3. India is a signatory to the Metre Convention and is thus a member of the CGPM. India is also a member of the OIML. In view of the revision by the CGPM of the standards of weights and measures and the changes in the law suggested by the OIML, the Central Government constituted a Committee with Shri S. K. Maitra, a Joint Secretary in the Ministry of Law, Justice and Company Affairs, as its Chairman, to consider what changes were required to be made in the 1956-Act to give effect to the recommendations made by the aforesaid international organizations. The said Committee included technical and scientific experts and also included representatives of some of the State Governments.

4. After going into the matter in depth, the Committee submitted a unanimous recommendation suggesting the replacement of the 1956-Act by a comprehensive legislation on the subject. The Bill seeks to give effect to the recommendations of the aforesaid international organizations.

5. The Bill further provides for consumer protection in respect of packaged commodities by providing, in pursuance of the recommendations of the OIML, for the proper indication on the package of net quantity by weight, measures or number, the identity of the commodity contained therein, name of the manufacturer, and, what is very important, the price of the package. It is also proposed that commodities commonly used by people should be packed in rationalised standard quantities by weight, measure or number, so as to facilitate the purchase and comparison of price by the people. Further, indication of date of manufacture and date of expiry would also be marked for appropriate products.

6. A further provision for consumer protection is the approval of models of weights, measures and weighing and measuring instruments, which is recommended by the OIML draft law. The scientific evaluation of the performance, accuracy and dependability of weights, measures etc would enable the consumer to buy his requirements with greater confidence about accuracy and also give industries the facility to use more accurate measuring instruments in their production control and enable the scientists to measure accurately the quantities involved in their researches. All these benefits will contribute to national development.

7. The main features of the Bill are,—

- (a) establishment of the standards of weights and measures, based on the SI units, as adopted by the CGPM and recognised by the OIML;
- (b) establishment of the standards of numeration, based on the international form of Indian numerals;
- (c) regulation of inter-State trade and commerce in weights and measures and commodities sold, distributed or supplied by weight or measure;
- (d) regulation of inter-State trade and commerce in commodities sold, supplied or distributed in packaged form;
- (e) control and regulation of export and import of weights and measures and commodities in packaged form;
- (f) approval (before manufacture) of models of weighing and measuring instruments intended to be manufactured after the commencement of the proposed legislation;
- (g) establishment of an Indian Institute of Legal Metrology for imparting training in legal metrology to inspectors and other persons;
- (h) surveys and collection of statistics for facilitating planning and enforcement of the proposed legislation;
- (i) punishment for offences against the proposed legislation.

FINANCIAL MEMORANDUM

Clauses 24 and 25 of the Bill require the Central Government to prepare, or cause to be prepared, at the Central Government Mint at Bombay, sets of reference, secondary and working standards. Enactment of these provisions would require the expansion of the Mint aforesaid. Under the Indo-German Agreement the said Mint would receive specialised equipments and machinery from the Government of the Federal Republic of Germany, but the Government of India will have to provide for the purchase of indigenous equipments, necessary workshop facilities and technical staff. The expansion of the Metrology Wing of the Central Government Mint at Bombay would need an extra expenditure. The non-recurring expenditure for such expansion is estimated to be of the order of Rs. 15 lakhs and the recurring expenditure is estimated to be of the order of Rs. 10 lakhs.

The reference, secondary and working standards needed by the Central Government under clauses 24 and 25 are required to be kept at the prescribed place in prescribed custody. Accordingly, it is proposed to establish four Standard Laboratories, region-wise, in a phased manner in the course of the Fifth and Sixth Plans. The non-recurring expenditure for the establishment of these Regional Laboratories is estimated to be of the order of Rs. 30 lakhs (which will also include the cost of the reference, secondary and working standards needed by the Central Government and will further include the cost of reference standards required to be supplied to the State Government) and the recurring expenditure for the employment of scientific and technical staff needed for such laboratories is estimated to be of the order of Rs. 6 lakhs.

Clause 28 of the Bill empowers the Central Government to appoint a Director of Legal Metrology and as many Additional, Joint, Deputy or Assistant Directors and other officers and staff as may be necessary for exercising powers and efficiently discharging the duties conferred or imposed on them by or under the Act. At present, there is a Directorate of Weights and Measures at the Centre. It is proposed to expand the said Directorate in view of the additional work proposed to be assigned to that Directorate by or under the Bill. The additional recurring expenditure on such expansion of the Directorate is estimated to be of the order of Rs. 5 lakhs per annum.

Clause 36 of the Bill provides for the approval of the model of every weight or measure before large-scale production of such weight or measure is undertaken. The Bill contemplates the establishment of one or more laboratories for the testing of the models of weights and measures submitted to the Central Government for approval. It is, however, proposed that, during the initial stages, the work connected with the approval of models of weights and measures should be entrusted to the Standards Division of the National Physical Laboratory which is already well-equipped for the purpose. Further facilities for the testing and approval of models are likely to be created under the Indo-German Technical Co-operation. In the course of time, the cost incurred in the maintenance of such laboratories is expected to be met by the fees received for the approval of models, the expected income of the fees being Rs. 5 lakhs per annum. During the initial stages, however, a small non-recurring expenditure of the order of Rs. 1 lakh, is likely to be incurred for the testing of models. A recurring expenditure of Rs. 25,000 per annum is also estimated to be incurred to give effect to the provisions of clause 36 (2).

Clause 76 of the Bill provides for the establishment of the Indian Institute of Legal Metrology for imparting training in legal metrology and other allied branches of knowledge. At present, a training Institute is already functioning under the Central Government for the purpose aforesaid. It would be necessary to expand the said Institute in view of the provisions of the proposed Bill. An additional expenditure of the order of Rs. 3 lakhs per annum is estimated to be incurred for the expansion of the training Institute. The additional recurring expenditure for the training Institute is estimated to be of the order of Rs. 5 lakhs.

Other provisions of the Bill, if enacted, will not involve any recurring or non-recurring expenditure.
